ORGANIZATIONAL PROFILE

Looking Glass Foundation for Eating Disorders was co-founded in 2002 by three families seeking care for their loved ones, who were suffering from life-threatening eating disorders. Because of the commitment and courage of these families, the Foundation established Canada's first eating disorder live-in treatment program for youth, which is now operated in collaboration with the Provincial Health Services Authority. This 14-bed treatment facility supports youth aged 16 to 24, of all genders, who are suffering from anorexia, bulimia, and other eating disorders.

Looking Glass Foundation offers three community-based volunteer-enabled programs to people of all genders, aged 14+: Personal Recovery Space – volunteer mentors provide a private digital forum accessible 24/7, offering empathetic and confidential support; Online Peer Support – ten times per week, volunteer moderators facilitate online group support chats in real-time that are safe, confidential and encouraging for participants at any stage of their recovery; and Hand in Hand – weekly one-to-one support, either in person or virtual.

The Foundation also offers scholarships, and Foundation board and staff provide in-person, telephone, and email support to hundreds of people each year.
